

GLASS PENDANT LIGHT DROP

EL_P_11

The Drop pendant lamp is a small, subtle shape inspired by the projects of the Bauhaus era and especially by the figure of the exceptional artist Marianne Brandt. In the design of the lamp the accent was put on poetic use of geometrical shapes so characteristic of Brandt.

The milky drop-shaped lampshade was created in a hand-blown glass process and is made of three-layered opal glass, which softly diffuses the light. The tapered three-piece top was designed in the Embassy studio and cast in solid brass, which was then coated with a layer of nickel in an elegant shiny silver colour.
